This is the 4th Sunday of Lent. Our Gospel has the parable of the prodigal son. It is difficult to imagine a parable that better conveys the mercy of God. If there is one thing that is clear in this parable, it is that the father of the prodigal son is moved to his core by the sight of his son returning home. The father runs out to meet him, and even before his son can finish his apology, the father has the servants bring him new clothes and orders a celebration to celebrate his son's return home.

When we go to confession, we bring joy to the heart of our heavenly Father. This is especially true when we take time to look over our life thoroughly and look for whatever would wound the heart of our heavenly Father. When we do that and then enter the confessional, the heart of God the Father swells with joy and overflows in mercy for us through His Son, Jesus.

Lent is a season of mercy and repentance. Never fear to come to seek the mercy of our heavenly Father in this sacrament. The Father sent His only begotten Son to die for our sins. Showing awareness of God's love for us by using the sacrament of confession brings joy to our Father in heaven and His Son, our crucified Savior, Jesus Christ.

Mark your calendars for the two fish fries in our cluster coming up the first two Fridays in April. Both of our parishes will host one fish fry followed by Stations of the Cross. See page 4 for further details.

The Apology

GOSPEL REFLECTION

I like to imagine the Prodigal Son practicing his apology in the mirror.

He wouldn't have, of course. Mirrors weren't exactly a dime a dozen back then. But I imagine him anyway, rehearsing the words as he contemplates his own gaunt reflection: "Father, I have sinned against God and against you. Treat me as you would treat one of your hired workers."

In other words, I have done wrong. I deserve nothing from you. But please, don't let me starve. Save me.

The apology wasn't necessary to move the heart of the father. We know that because before they meet, before anything is said, the father is overcome with compassion — not because he got his satisfaction, that long-awaited "I'm sorry, I was wrong." No, he's simply overjoyed to see his son alive. Even without apology, we know the father will beg his son to stay.

So why does the son apologize?

The father doesn't need the "I'm sorry." He isn't starving and lost. He knew all along it was a bad idea. He doesn't need to learn any lessons.

But what a tragedy it would have been, if the son had never said he was sorry. Undoubtedly, his father would have let him stay as a hired worker, and he would have had food to eat. He would have survived. But he wouldn't have been what he was born to be.

I often think of the son's apology as I am kneeling in the confessional, awkwardly reciting sins God already knows and is eager to forgive. Why are you doing this? some people would ask. God doesn't need this.

It's the apology, you see. The apology means everything. The Prodigal Son was dead. The apology brought him back to life.

God doesn't need our repentance. We need our repentance.

DEVOTIONS, EXPLAINED!

Imago Divina (or Visio Divina): Praying with Sacred Art

"The Storm at Sea" (Rembrandt)

"The Adoration of the Shepherds"
(Gerard van Honthorst)

Imago Divina (Latin for "divine image") is an extension of the ancient practice of Lectio Divina ("divine reading"). Imago Divina is, in a sense, praying with one's eyes, or using the medium of artwork to assist in lifting the mind to God.

Believers have always connected with the divine through visual representations of faith. This can be seen in the frescoes that adorn the walls of the catacombs, in the glory of Rococo architecture, and in the stained glass windows of a simple country church. "Art is capable of making visible our need to go beyond what we see and it reveals our thirst for infinite beauty, for God," said Pope Benedict in 2011.

In practicing imago divina, just like with lectio divina, the faithful "read" (or view), reflect, respond and rest with the image, inviting the Holy Spirit to move them accordingly.

CATHOLIC LIFE EXPLAINED

Question:

Lent always seems to help me renew my relationship with God and strengthen my religious practice. Do you have any suggestions as to what I could do to achieve that the rest of the year?

Answer:

The obvious answer may seem to be to do whatever you do during Lent all year round. But part of the power of Lent is that we focus as a community on renewing our faith and preparing for Easter. Our Lenten practices have a purpose and a goal. Therein lies the secret. When we focus our efforts on one virtue, or try to change one bad habit, or seek to deepen our understanding of one aspect of faith, we focus our efforts and give our full attention to what we are trying to accomplish. We tend to be more successful achieving our goals. More importantly, it has a ripple effect in our lives: one thing changes or is added to the spiritual mix of our lives and many aspects are changed.

All too often we leave our spiritual growth to chance and the practice of faith to habit, and then wonder why we have no sense of growth or progress. Think of it in terms of exercise. We walk, lift weights, bend and stretch to attain the maximum benefit from what we do. In addition, to keep those benefits, we eat healthy food and get enough vitamins and rest. Spirituality requires the same kind of attention: we pray, fast, read the Bible, receive sacraments, and do charitable work to maximize the benefits of practicing faith. Keeping Lent year round keeps us in spiritual shape!
